Syllabus and support materials

International schools will have access to a range of syllabus and support materials for the WACE International courses offered.

The WACE International is a leading curriculum program because it is underpinned by interwoven principles of teaching, learning and assessment. Focusing on providing students with learning environments that are intellectually, socially and physically supportive, the WACE International helps to guide whole-school planning as well as individual classroom practice.

Support for schools

The WACE International is supported by a range of teaching, learning and assessment resources to support curriculum implementation. International Education officers at the SCSA are exclusively focused on supporting schools by:

- working in partnership with teachers and school leaders to support teaching and assessment planning
- delivering professional learning (e.g. lesson planning, teaching strategies and assessment practices)
- conducting workshops that demonstrate practical applications of the latest educational theories
- establishing international support networks for teachers and schools
- conducting in-country visits, where possible, and regular online meetings to help teachers understand and deliver curriculum that promotes student achievement.

Moderation

The SCSA conducts moderation processes that focus on the comparability of school marks and grades to support the fair marking and grading of students. The SCSA also provides statistical analysis of student results, which can be used to help students improve their academic outcomes by guiding teacher practice.

Examinations

WACE International students enrolled in Year 12 Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) courses sit final examinations administered by the SCSA to receive an ATAR for university entrance. Final examinations are held at the end of the year. The school provides a venue and secure storage of the examinations and the SCSA manages examination development, supervision and marking.
